CS 491 Homework
Nogramming

1 Overview

Your responsibility in this homework is to do something creative that's related to mobile computing but does not involve writing any code.

2 Requirements

To complete this homework, please do the following:

1. Create some artifact related to mobile computing. The following items are artifacts: report, epic, poem, video, drawing, sculpture, song, essay, critique, analysis, comic. Other things may be classified as artifacts too. Run your idea for an artifact by your instructor before you create it.

2. Create an artifact that is meaningful to you and is original in content. Artifacts must not look haphazardly assembled. Demonstrate care and rigor in its production.

3. Publish your artifact in a post mortem on the course blog. Categorize your post `fall 2012`, `post mortems`, and `cs491 mobile`. Publish your post. Check that a link appears on the main course page.

3 Submission

Publication of your post mortem finalizes your submission. Revisit the syllabus for the rules on submission and what happens when you don't meet requirements.
